Dear [REDACTED]

You have asked me to clarify the recurrent question of how the proceeds of a legitimate claim arising under our W.A.E.P.A. coverage would be administered. Keeping in mind the fact that due to the secret like to remind you that we accept such applications in good faith upon certification by you and hence are on the claim in the event of the death of the insured.

The specific problem of payment to the beneficiary under certain conditions might involve delays and onerous investigations on our part. The underwriter will, of course, require a certified proof of death of

[REDACTED]
The important thing to remember is that a bona fide claim will always be paid and any possible involvement as to the distribution of the proceeds will be for you as trustees to solve.

Very truly yours,
